HBR Consulting Expands its Information Governance Offerings with the Hiring of Laurie Fischer and a Team of Experts

Latest Hires Demonstrate HBR Consulting's Commitment to Providing Clients with Innovative Solutions to Today's Pressing Challenges

October 4, 2016 (Chicago, IL) — HBR Consulting LLC (HBR), a trusted advisor to law firms and corporations worldwide, is pleased to announce that Laurie Fischer and the Information Governance and Compliance team, formerly with Consilio LLC, has joined HBR's Law Department Consulting practice.

Fischer and her team of 10 consultants come to HBR Consulting with decades of collective experience providing clients with a comprehensive approach to the design, development and implementation of enterprise-wide information governance programs. Her team will enhance HBR's breadth of services and complement its existing core competencies in strategy and planning, process and operational improvement, systems and technology, and benchmarking and data analytics.

"At HBR, we recognize the importance of providing our clients innovative solutions to address their most pressing challenges," Chris Petrini-Poli, CEO at HBR, said. "I am confident that the experience Laurie and her team bring will complement HBR's portfolio of services, helping our law firm and corporate legal department clients achieve compliance and governance objectives through a total commitment to excellence."

Laurie has over 25 years of experience in the information governance field. Under her leadership, the information governance team has received numerous accolades, including recognition by the New York Law Journal's Reader Rankings as the "Best Information Governance Provider" for the last two years.

"We are very excited to be joining the HBR team. Our proficiency in information governance, privacy and security, and litigation preparedness supplements HBR's already strong expertise and market presence," Laurie said. "Together, we will provide clients with the services they need to manage strategic change and be prepared for the future."

"With the growing emphasis on information governance as well as increased risk in the data privacy and security space, the expansion of our Information Governance practice enhances our ability to provide our clients with additional value at a time of increasing business complexity. Laurie and her team are a great fit and we could not be more excited to welcome them to HBR," said, Kevin Clem, managing director of HBR's Law Department Consulting practice.
